He cursed and cried and drank and made her drink, too, pledging to. "Seemed odd. Old woman from a village inland, never seen the sea, calling the name of an island away off like that." He came up on deck again. It was clearing, and as the sun set the clouds broke all across the west, showing a golden sky behind the high dark curve of a hill..celibate as anyone, sir." brought me to her place at this hour." As he walked he thought; he thought hard; he recalled. He recalled all he could of matters his teacher had spoken of once only and long ago. Strange matters, so strange he had never known if they were true wizardry or mere witchery, as they said on Roke. Matters he certainly had never heard about on Roke, nor did he ever speak about them there, maybe fearing the Masters would despise him for taking such things seriously, maybe knowing they would not understand them, because they were Gontish matters, truths of Gont. They were not written even in Ard's lore-books, that had come down from the Great Mage Ennas of Perregal. They were all word of mouth. They were home truths..The daughter of "the wise king Thoreg" rescued Erreth-Akbe from this trance or imprisoning spell and restored him his strength. He gave her the half of the Ring of Peace that remained to him. (From her it passed through her descendants for over five hundred years to the last heirs of Thoreg, a brother and sister exiled on a deserted island of the East Reach; and the sister gave it to Ged.) Intathin kept the other half of the broken Ring, and it "went into the dark"-that is, into the Great Treasury of the Tombs of Atuan. (There Ged found it, and rejoining the two halves and with them the lost Rune of Peace, he and Tenar brought the Ring home to Havnor.) and sent the healing into his hands with the words of power spoken over and over. After a while.sorcerer, Alder had said. Not a wizard, not a mage. Only a curer, a cattle healer. I do not need.....". After a long pause he went on. "You know that a dragon brought back our Lord Sparrowhawk, with the warmth and weight of her touch that he had wasted so much time wanting..thundered; she fell flat on the ground..sea, A seabird flying in the grave..cold.".from pain. It was all part of the great principle, perfectly clear once seen. He was sure he was pit us one against the other, for their gain not ours. We sell em our power. Why do we? If we went.The great guilds, since their network covers all the Inner Lands, answer to no overlord or authority except the King in Havnor.. "My father," he began, and stopped, and gave a kind of laugh. "They don't go together," he said.
